

Barbara Hyden Is Laurel Candidate

Queen Nominee Will Attend Annual Festival

Morehead's candidate for Queen of the Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival next month is 18-year-old Barbara Hyden, a freshman. Miss Hyden received the highest number of votes in a write-in election by the students of the body, and was officially appointed by a special student-faculty committee.

The festival, which is to be held May 29, 30 and 31 at Pine Mountain State Park near Pineville, is an annual affair which commemorates the blooming of the laurel in the mountains of southeastern Kentucky. Miss Hyden will compete for the title of Queen with other candidates from universities and colleges all over Kentucky. She will be accompanied at the festival by her escort, Wendell Jones, and her mother.

Morehead's candidate is a 5 ft. 9 inch blonde who weighs 114 pounds. During her senior year at Brookridge Training School, she was elected Miss Brookridge and the Beta Club Review. She is a member of the Women's League at Morehead, and likes to swim and to play basketball.

The festival will open Thursday evening, May 29, with a dance attended by all candidates and the winning queen. A parade at last year's festival, a blessed Friday morning will precede the coronation. The coronation, the Queen's Ball is held Friday night, and a breakfast is served Saturday morning at the lodge at Kentucky Ridge State Park. The coronation is held during which a high school girl is chosen festival princess, will close the festival. Saturday night, other events during the three days will include a picnic supper at Laurel, and a coronation ceremony at the area.

Three Road Signs To Be Erected By College Soon

Three road signs advertising the college are soon to be erected on highways leading into Morehead. The signs, now under construction, are being drafted from Jim Owens' winning design in the recent Student Council contest.

The college is furnishing materials and employing a painter to paint the signs. A Student Council committee will select the design for the signs, and the signs will be erected by the Buildings and Grounds Department when they are completed.

Although the signs were originally scheduled to be completed in January, the work has been extended to sometime before the end of this semester.

Idea For Improvement Of Handbook Requested

Suggestions for improvement of the new student handbook distributed last year are being requested by the Student Council. The handbook is planned to be published this year, in printed or mimeographed form, by the end of the opening of the first semester.

March Chaise Postponed

Sadie Hawkins Day has been postponed to Wednesday, May 7, it was announced by the Student Council. Plans for the day's activities have not been changed.

Ben began work on the board soon after he arrived on campus two years ago, and immediately began running into several problems. First there was the question of where to find parts.

Ben began with a few pieces from a make-shift board used the previous year in the arena theater. From the science department he wheeled nuts and bolts and wires. Wiring was a problem, scrap picked up here and there from dusty corners all over the campus.

The buildings department supplied the materials for the wiring, and Ben began to assemble the board. The board is a table with a control panel on one end and a top. Ben claims that his board is constructed simply so that anyone with a little electrical experience could operate it, but according to drama professor W. Covington, no one short of a professional electrician or Ben himself could have made such a success.

Though it is built mostly of "household" parts rather than regular theater lighting equipment, the board is a success. According to Mr. Covington, irreplaceable in this year's drama production, the board is a success.

The board itself is a table with a control panel on one end and a top. Ben claims that his board is constructed simply so that anyone with a little electrical experience could operate it, but according to drama professor W. Covington, no one short of a professional electrician or Ben himself could have made such a success.

College St. Resident Recalls Early Days Of Campus Here

Steven Hook of Augusta, Ky., Roy E. Hook of Catlettsburg, Ky., Mrs. Tina Raye Meade, and Mrs. Tina Raye Meade, who is still in school, help keep her busy and interested.

Two of Mrs. Hook's 12 grandchildren were also students at the college. They are Robert A. Hook, who is now in Alaska. One of the most recent of the family's Morehead alumni is Everson "Tater" Brooks, husband of Mrs. Hook's daughter, Mrs. Tina Raye Meade, who graduated two years ago.

Mrs. Hook, who enjoys "getting something done and getting it done well," especially likes to make rugs and quilts. She is working on a quilt for the college's new building.

After graduation, Mrs. Hook taught school in Rowan County for several years before her marriage. Her husband, a native of Elliott County, also took a teaching-training job at Morehead, and then opened a school at Newfountain, Ky. Later he returned to Morehead to teach mathematics in the Normal School, and the young couple then in the college until 1932 when he was killed in a motorcycle accident.

Mrs. Hook's first home on the campus was located where the swimming pool now stands. She recalled that when the campus began to expand, the house was moved to Ovington, where it still remains. Later she moved to a house on Second Street.

Eleven Intramural Softball Teams Sign For Tourney

Men's intramural softball starts this week with 11 teams participating, and the possibility of more signing up. Games will be played at five o'clock in the afternoon and as soon as the schedule is complete, team managers will be notified of the dates their teams are to play.

The intramurals will be run in two sections this year, the first beginning this week, and the second starting with the summer term. Winner of the first section will be decided on the basis of percentage of games won.

The rules, according to Coach Bob Laughlin, are similar to those for the basketball tournament. Each team will be limited to 12 players with a maximum of three intercollegiate baseball players per team. Every team must have a student coach or manager, who may or may not be one of the 12 players.

Coach Laughlin stated that no one will be permitted to play in baseball spikes. Players may wear football shoes, gym shoes, or what have you, but no metal spikes will be allowed.

Baseball Eagles Get 6 Wins; Hopes For OVC Title High

Morehead's baseball Eagles have run up an impressive string of six straight wins so far this season, as compared with only one game lost, and hopes are high that Morehead can capture the eastern OVC championship and be host for the conference play-offs May 21 and 22.

Coach Stanley Radjunas indicated confidence in his ball club and optimism for the season's outcome. "We've been playing good ball," he said. "We won our first conference game (with Marshall) and now we're looking forward to our coming game with Eastern." This game will be played tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. in the stadium.

Only defeat so far this season was in the opener when the Albion, Mich., team defeated the Eagles by a score of 10 to 3. Morehead made a comeback in the second game of the double-header, however, with a 6 to 3 win, and since then has not lost a single contest. The Eagles beat Marshall, 5-4, Louisville, 11-8, Cincinnati 6-2, and Georgetown 12-0 and 5-1, in a double-header. A game with Transylvania, scheduled for last week, was rained out and postponed until May 5.

The Ohio Valley Conference is divided into two sections, eastern and western. This year the championship play-offs are to be held on the home field of the winner of the eastern division, which includes Morehead, Eastern and Marshall. Teams in the western division are Evansville, Murray, Western and TPI.

The Eagles' leading pitcher to date is Joe Kenny, with three victories (Marshall, Cincinnati and Albion) under his belt. Ervin Spencer pitched wins over Louisville and in one of Georgetown games, and Bill Goebel pitched the other Georgetown win.

High hitters so far this season are Joe Kenny and Wendell Jones. Kenny has hit consistently all season, while Jones, according to Coach Radjunas, "awakened" suddenly in the last few games. Hitting well and playing his usual dependable style of ball is Bill Hauck.

Bill Goebel has been playing "sensational" ball in the outfield, and has also stolen eight bases, including two steals to home plate.

Radjunas commented favorably, also, on Harold Barker, who is developing into an exceptionally good catcher, after having been converted from the pitching position.

The Eagles will be guests of the Cincinnati Reds ball club the evening they play the University of Cincinnati there Friday.

Home games to be played yet this year are with Eastern (tomorrow), Georgetown (May 12), and Transylvania (May 24).

Playwright To See Campus Production

Arriving on campus early next week will be David Samples, author of "Consider the Heavens," a historical drama to be presented next month as a world premiere by the Morehead Players. Mr. Samples will attend the last week of rehearsals and do some revision of his script which is now under consideration for production on Broadway. He will remain in town after the show closes.

Advance tickets for the play, scheduled for the evenings of May 14, 15, and 16, will soon go on sale, according to W. P. Covington. Prices are $1 for reserved seats, 50 cents for general admission, and 25 cents for block seats. The latter will be sold in groups of 10, and in the general admission section of the auditorium. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Covington or any member of the Morehead Players.

The play will feature a cast of 30 actors, the direction of Mr. Covington. Costumes by Jean Ingram, and four new settings by Charles Clifton. The play is a romantic drama of Tycho Brahe, 16th century astronomer.

Another attraction of the production will be incidental music by the Morehead Chorus under the direction of John Long of the English Department. The scores have been specially selected and arranged for 16th century music.

At the close of each performance, Mr. Samples will introduce to the audience. An open question and answer period for audience discussion of the script will follow.

Footlights could be operated through the board if necessary. 12 additional lights are added (and, according to Mr. Covington, they are badly needed) the board will have to be enlarged or others added.

Working with theater lighting here is not the first experience in this type of work that Ben has had. Ben, coming to Morehead, had been stationed in 1941 with the Air Force as a hydraulic technician. Here he "hung around" a professional summer theater in Manchester, watching and assisting the electrician, and picking up a good deal of know-how.

His interest in all fields of electrical or mechanical work, however, "as soon as I was old enough to investigate the insides of mechanical toys." At the time of age he opened a repair shop in his home town of Prestonsburg, Ky., and in the six year period following, he owned a total of 23 bicycles which he bought out of the profits from his shop. Reports from junior class president Don Thompson indicate that the class's recent Spring Carnival was a huge success. A three-part evening of fun netted $75, which the juniors are contributing to finance a class picnic. Otherwise they may do a picnic. The fund for next year's Rancounter.

A highlight of the three-part program was the flashlight game which came between the game-playing and the carnival dance. Bernie Flier went over his vocal soloist, a male quartet also known as the "Three Fliers" was called for an encore after her stylized vocal delivery. Much appreciated was a three-piece combo which gave forth with a jam session.

Prizes awarded in the evening were donated to the class by downtown merchants, and were displayed in the window of Holbrook Pharmacy prior to the carnival. Contributors were Battalion Drug Store, Bishop Drug Store, Danner's Barbershop, Dixie Grill, Golden's Department Store, Greyhound Restaurant, Holbrook Pharmacy, Jayne Electric Company, Kentucky Restaurant, Layne Department Store, Martin's Department Store, The Southern Belle, and the Western Auto Associate Store.
